The Bus' Short Trail

So it is Thursday night in Long Beach, and EVERYONE is asking me, "NHF, why aren't you going to the Campout?" OK, I know I'm a loser and can rattle off 10 excuses, but I'm sure the campout will rock without me. Besides, someone has to stay behind for the weekend and prevent those LA hashers from coming down and invading our turf.

The scheduled hares for the evening were Buster and Leaning Hard. However, apparently Leaning decided to lay trail in Texas with Cum Union, so Buster was left to himself. "It's OK," said Buster, "I haven't scouted anyhow, so Leaning wouldn't be able to help anyhow."

After checking in with 6-9 and Night Deposit I had to talk to Special Head about her upcoming "M-word" hash that is now coming up. Yes guys, Special Head is getting married. And to a non-hasher even!! By the way, we've just decided her M-word run will be a PMS run on August 29th at the Olympic Stadium Pool in Belmont Shore. (Thanks for teaching us the beauty of self promotion 8YS.)

Yes, your hair looks nice. Any more questions?

So we are about to start the first LBH3 trail inside the LB box in about 2 months, so it was no surprise to see about 8 new boots.

Buster finally started in a puff of white powder. He started down 6th ST, went around a lake and dropped trail into the low level lake embankment. We came up through the drainage inlet, and were never to see shiggy the rest of the trail.

We passed walkers such as Boys R' Us and Baby Crack Whore. Big Pete and Kamana were way further up the trail along with other walkers. There were plenty of checks through the neighborhoods to keep the pack together for most of the run.

At one point I heard Just Say No to Crack yelling about something the FRB's were doing. Next thing I know I hear him yelp in pain and limping down the street saying, "I'm OK, I'm OK, I won't miss the campout, I'm OK!!" Karma sucks don't it Crack.

After a few more mis-read checks, I thought trail would be going to a beercheck at Buster's apt., I found the real beercheck. He's So Sweet and Entertainment Unit set up beers and water in their back patio.

The next section of trail was pretty standard LBH3 trail. A few checks, a few fences, through the greenbelt, lots of neighbors asking what we were doing. On a nice cool evening, it wasn't too bad of a 3 mile Thursday night trail.

Yawn, are you down-downs over yet? I need a nap.

I'd say pretty good for a first solo-haring effort. Leaning Hard would have only added another 3 miles to it.

The best part after down-downs was watching Special Head freak out on He's So Sweet when he wasn't back on time from his beercheck with the munchies. I know I hadn't eaten that day, but I knew he had the stuff. It just showed that Special is truly in form for her wedding.

Crack and Pinky began their weekly comedy minute in a side of the parking lot without any light. Geezer pulled a 3 foot electric glowstick out of her truck, and of course Crack thought it was a missing piece of his anatomy and wanted to show it off to everyone.

A SPECIAL EDITION OF THE SNOOZE WILL FEATURE ALL THE PHOTOS AND WRITE-UPS FOR THE 3 GREAT TRAILS – and GREAT PARTYING AND FEASTING THAT 100 HASHERS ENJOYED AT INDIAN HILL CAMPGROUND IN TEHASHAPI.
LOOK FOR THE SPECIAL SNOOZE CUMMING SOON !

Buster gets ready for his big solo.

Somehow, Royal Flush was saved from hashit for a week. It turns out Pillsbury was caught having his picture in the paper for racing. Unfortunately the picture showed him losing to an 8-year old.

By the way, for all of you that don't know New Boot Margo yet, get ready for her naming committee. She had 2 classic lines during the evening. First, she thought she had lost her keys and waited 10 minutes before looking in the parking lot. When she came back we asked her why she waited so long. She said to Sofa King and I that "I didn't want to go down because I was afraid someone would yell at me." No, that is actually acceptable hash behavior. Her second comment was at the OnOn when we were advising her to be careful about what she said around this group. Her even better comment was, "I know, I need to learn that when something comes out of my mouth, I need to put it back in." Yes, Margo, you do!!!!

Nice Hair Fag

Date: 6/8/1989 Run # 234

Location: Southgate Rod & Gun Club, Southgate

LBH3's first Lingerie Run was layed by BIG BLACK DICK and ON CALL. Sixty one hashers found their way to the start. Purple flour? There was lots and lots of purple flour on the road. The pack was dressed in skimpy lingerie. FUNGUS looked exceptionally good in his purple teddie. The hares ON CALL in pink and turquoise and BIG BLACK DICK in black lace started trail by laying purple flour down the rail road tracks. The pack soon followed and found the rail road trellis. After scaring a few horses we were led to an overpass. DR MIKEY and a few others thought they would short cut to the other side. I must admit I enjoyed watching MIKEY wading through a stream to get back on trail. The pack zigzagged to a park where soccer players halted their game to watch all the hashers jog through in their cute little lace teddies. As they drooled, I could barely understand what they were shouting in Spanish. Trail continued on to a Military Base, over a fence and into a golf course. The final fence was in sight. The pack would have moved swifter over the fence, but MINORBATER decided to lay down on his back and take pictures of Harriets lifting their legs over the fence instead of helping them. He said he wanted live action shots. Once we crossed over more railroad tracks in was On-In,
